“A LETTER TO MY DAUGHTER JAMIE ON HER 40th BIRTHDAY”

My Dearest Jamie,

As I sit here today on your 40th birthday I can't help but think about how much you loved your special day and how you seemed to always get your gifts from me early and often as you found a way to make September your birthday month! Today being your 40th birthday I can just imagine in my heart and mind what a celebration we would be having for you and how much you would enjoy being surrounded by your family, friends, and all who love you so much.

I am trying so hard to keep these good thoughts and memories in my mind but then it hits me that you are not here today and not going to be here tomorrow or ever again. Everyone says to me “It will get better”. It is now 16 months without you and it is not getting any better. At times it is even worse. Myself and your entire family are struggling so much each day and you are constantly in our thoughts. We are working hard to keep your memory alive for Chloe and Cody. All of your family and friends will never forget you. You are a very special young lady and I know that God needed you for a purpose. I hope someday that we will know why and can find some peace in our hearts.

So as I try to make my way through this day, just know that we are doing everything that we can do for Tom, Chloe, and Cody and that you are never far from us in our thoughts and prayers. I know that you have no further earthly needs but we will continue to help all of those you left behind to heal their broken hearts and to pray for your sweet soul. I am confident that you are happy in heaven. So for now, may God bless us here as we try to heal the huge hole in our hearts and continue your good work on earth helping others in need just as you always did when you were here with us. I also pray that God will unite us all again when the time is right.

HAPPY 40th BIRTHDAY my sweet sweet angel. I hope there is a big party for you in Heaven today surrounded by all those you loved in life! My heart is broken without you. I love you with all of my heart now and forever!

XOXO,

Dad
